

Copy Trade Disclosure Agreement

I _____ (print client name) acknowledge that I am using the Tradeview Financial Markets S.A.C trade copier software or the CTrader trade copier software (each the “Copier Software”) in connection with my Tradeview Financial Markets S.A.C account number _____, and that Tradeview Financial Markets S.A.C has made no representation regarding the potential profitability of the signal service (the “Service”) to which I have subscribed and, further, that I am fully aware of the risk of loss involved in trading in the foreign exchange market. I further acknowledge and agree that Tradeview Financial Markets S.A.C will execute the signals generated by the Service I subscribe to as delivered to Tradeview Financial Markets S.A.C on a best effort basis.

I further agree that I accept the Copier Software “as is” and that Tradeview, without limitation, shall have no liability for losses to my account and no responsibility for advising me of any changes, alterations, updates, enhancements or optimizations made to the Service to which I have subscribed or to the Copier Software. I further acknowledge that it is my sole responsibility to keep myself informed of the activity in my account, the status of the Service to which I have subscribed and the Copier Software I am using.

Without limitation, Tradeview Financial Markets S.A.C shall not be responsible for any loss in my account caused by mechanical, system, software or communication failure or system errors, or, without limitation, any other cause beyond Tradeview’s immediate control. I hereby indemnify and hold harmless Tradeview, its principals, agents, directors, shareholder, officers and employees for any losses, costs, expenses and any other liability (including reasonable attorney’s/accountant’s fees) I might experience as a result of using the Copier Software or the Service.
